EVIDENTLY A GOOD RIDDANCE

(By Associated Press.)

Nicholson, Okla., April 11.—Lum Campbell, postmaster here, shot and killed O. C. Head, an ex-convict, last night. Twelve years ago Head was convicted of criminal assault upon Sallie Harris, his step-daughter who was married later by Campbell. Head was released recently. Sunday he went to the Campbell home and demanded to see Mrs. Campbell. A fight followed. Campbell shot Head dead. Campbell gave himself up.

Spain's Rich City

It is not surprising that, if Spain always more or less addicted by internal dissensions should have severe troubles, they should center in Barcelona. The chief support of the nation is here, the greatest industry is here, and here congregate in great numbers of those grades of society which are generally opposed to any organized government. Here are found the richest and the poorest of both disturbing elements, but for the present reason, one complaint of the unusual taxation and the other, the restraints which the government places upon licenses.

Few people in America realize the industrial wealth of Barcelona or how much she patronizes us for raw material. Over 125,000 people are employed there in the cotton industry alone, and the exports of this work amount to at least $75,000,000 annually. A large amount of the raw cotton used is purchased in the United States and shipped from Galveston. For 20 years after all America is more or less interested in this section of Spain. Living is cheaper there than in any other city in Spain. Rents are marvelously low and I saw a flat of fifteen rooms with all modern appliances, on the Fifth avenue of the city which rents for but $45 per month. Indeed a very excellent apartment of ten rooms can be obtained for $25. Labor, however, is correspondingly low, and the working class enjoys few luxuries. The Catalan works with unceasing energy, rather than the laborer of other parts of Alfonso's country. Although he listens to agitators he is often quick to think for himself, and he fights for what he considers his rights with the same energy, and the government at Madrid will do well to consider the cry of this restless child before it is too late that cry is already finding an echo in northern Spain.—Mrs. C. R. Miller in Leslie's Weekly.

Worse Than Bullets.

Bullets have often caused less suffering to soldiers than the ozone of W. W. Harriman, Burlington, Me., got in the army, and suffered with forty years. "But Buckle's America Salve cured me when all else failed," he writes. Greatest healer for Sores, Fleets, Boils, Burns, Cuts, wounds, Bruises and Piles, 25c at all drug stores.

A. & M. College News Notes

The first meet of the Triangular debating league was held April 1. The contests were decided as follows: Stillwater won at End, End won at Oklahoma City, and Oklahoma City won at Stillwater, the visiting team winning in every case. The team sent by A. & M. to End report a delightful trip and a most excellent reception by the Christian university. This college is the only one in the state that has succeeded in seeing against O. C. U. in an intercollegiate contest. A reception will be given to the negative and affirmative teams of this college by the literary societies Saturday evening.

The work of improving the college campus is progressing very rapidly. A large number of pines have been planted and a number of flower plants are being made.
A number of requests have been sent to the President's office, by newspapers in and out of the state, asking for the use of various cuts of the college work. These cuts have been sent out.

The work on the big smokestack for the new power plant is now progressing nicely.
The Chicago baseball team failed to appear Wednesday as scheduled. The students and people of the town had anticipated a good game and were much disappointed.

The engineering department is preparing quite an elaborate display of electrical work for the annual college exposition to be held in May.
The annual field problem and sham battle took place last Thursday afternoon. The regiment was divided into two forces commanded by Majors Woodworth and Spindel. Blank cartridges were used. One battalion defended the city of Stillwater while the other battalion made the attack. An exciting time was enjoyed by the spectators but some of the boys attached to their part of the fun.

Dr. Bowser of the department of pedagogy has recently visited a large number of the public schools of the northern part of the state. He reports that as a rule the schools are greatly crowded. They need more buildings and more teachers. The rate of levy for schools is everywhere too low. In most towns visited the average expenditure per pupil is $15, whereas the average expenditure per pupil in the United States is $20. In the towns where we find the more liberal levy of about $30.15 we also find the children enjoying the better advantages and making more progress. We found a number of excellent school men whose salaries are very much lower than the salaries actually paid to men of their ability. The first great need of Oklahoma's public schools is a higher levy and more money.
